Disclosure & Transactions

Robust search fields at both the filing and company levels complement full Boolean text search capabilities, helping you to quickly find relevant language from SEC EDGAR filings. Filter by a filer’s location, industry, financial characteristics, index membership—even whether it’s an investment company or mutual fund. Use our new IPO search to view filings associated with initial public offerings, or rely on item-level searches to help you find just what you’re looking for and skip the rest. For even more targeted searches, we offer additional search pages tailored to specific types of SEC filings, including:

- A database of law firm relationships to identify firms that represent issuers for SEC filings.
- A searchable exempt offerings database, featuring all electronic filings of Form D.
- Search pages dedicated to securities registrations, risk factors, and insider filings.

Enforcement & Litigation

Supplementing the broader enforcement data available Laws, Rules, Agencies, our new Enforcement & Litigation section offers hand-tagged data to allow for targeted searching in three areas. Our Investigation Disclosures page lets you search on companies that have disclosed investigations by federal agencies (the SEC, Department of Justice, Federal Trade Commission), US states, and foreign governments. Use our SEC Enforcement-Defendant Search to find SEC actions by defendant type and position, violation, and more; and perform similar power searching on FINRA Adjudication and CFTC Enforcement releases.
